roy c. ketcham high school / wappingers falls, n. y. / ben f. ingraham, principal

hi you don t know me but i ve been a secret observer at roy c ketcham this year and i ve seen and heard just about everything one of my early observations was that the 1964 portico was going to be candid and informal the entire student body has provided the material for this pictorial epic and the simplicity of every day events has served as a background perhaps this collection of memories needs no description just as memories themselves need no explanation however since i am the wee small voice speaking for r c k i have decided to preface this book with a few candid remarks based on my observations after a long vacation school opened with the usual excitement of meeting friends and adjusting to classes then a new excitement took over when activities began the first surge of school spirit was upon us at the games as evidenced by the combined enthusiasm of the teams cheerleaders booster club marching band and spectators even after fall sports finished i never lacked for entertainment the pleasant sounds coming from the auditorium were the strains of music of the mixed chorus with the selected choraliers adding a special note here and there not to be forgotten were the sonatas and symphonettes heard during orchestra rehearsals even though there weren t seventy-six trombones the band roused student spirit with majestic marches i really appreciated these contributions to cultural interests but for real fun nothing can beat prom time getting decorations ready was as exciting as the prom itself once i almost got covered with that spray paint have you ever seen room 136 before a prom it is a frightful mess but out of this chaos emerges a lovely setting for an enchanting evening it was exciting to watch the couples arrive to listen to the band and to watch the crowning of the queen another thing that gave me a thrill was the senior play i never missed a rehearsal i knew every line of the script painting scenery was a show in itself all in all there was so much activity around school this year that i had a hard time getting to all the clubs and things every afternoon i had a chance to observe something different the wapperian staff the writers club blood and ivy staff and debate to mention only a few

i realize activities are a necessary part of school life the most important phase however is the academic development of the student everyone in this school has a chance to strengthen his character through studies each student learns to broaden his horizons and acquire a sense of responsibility so that he may become worthy and capable of being a leader
i can t begin to name all the students who were inducted into the national honor society nor recall the names of the scholarship winners i ve written more than i had planned and besides one picture is worth a thousand words and one memory is worth a thousand pictures. . . . . .

Time To Look

In our complicated, specialized world, once a person begins working in a particular field he is likely to stay in it. As his experience grows, his knowledge and professional capabilities grow more and more specialized. As a person becomes more specialized in one field, he usually cannot change to another without starting at or near the bottom.

So it is more important than ever that graduates take time to look around them to determine what their greatest talents and interests are. When you have done that, choose the field where your real interests and abilities lie, for that is the surest and fastest road to success and happiness.

Though specialized, our world offers a wider range of opportunities than ever before. And there is in this modern world a place for each of us, a place where each can succeed and find happiness. It is up to each person to find his own place.

The time to look is now.

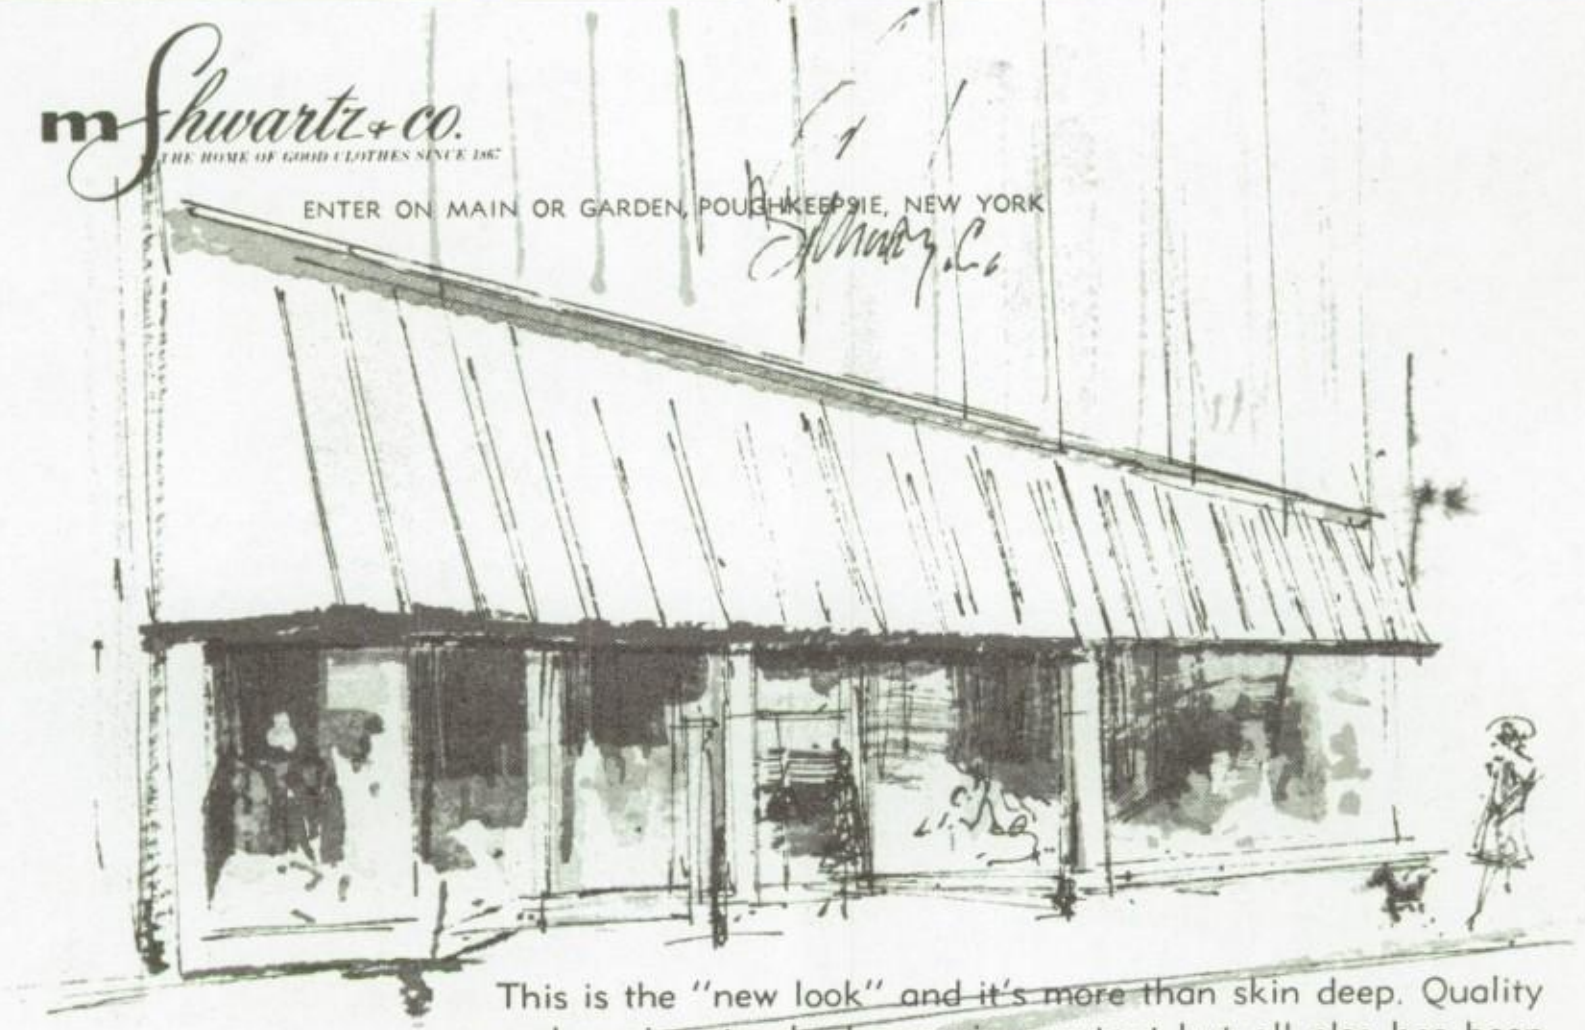
THE HOME OF GOOD CLOTHES SINCE 1867

ENTER ON MAIN OR GARDEN, POUGHKEEPSIE, NEW YORK



This is the "new look" and it's more than skin deep. Quality and service standards remain constant but all else has been altered or newly created. Who but the men in the family can vouch for our 97-year history of excellence! Thus the folder is addressed to you but the headline story is definitely feminine! We beg your indulgence and ask you to pass it along to mother, wife, daughter, niece, etc. They'll thank you profusely . . . as we most assuredly do!

One sure sign of Quality. . .

Quality is, according to our dictionary, a characteristic, a property or an attribute. One recognizes characteristics through experience, through familiarity. The sign you see portrayed above is recognizable because of the name upon it . . . the experience of our thousands of customers over the years has been that the name Linge means quality in lumber and building supplies. This is a fact well worth remembering.

Marilyn,

I want to start with saying that I hope your future will be very rewarding and profitable with whatever field you choose. You're such a sweet girl and deserve the best of everything. Now I want to say that you are the best friend I've ever had. Of course you remember how much you helped me when I was going to leave home. I want to thank you because it really worked wonders. Remember Prom night. You looked lovely and Nicky looked handsome. It is an evening I will never forget and Wayne won't either. He enjoyed your company as well as I did. It is the end of a wonderful year and the beginning of more to come.

I plan on seeing you this summer and maybe we can make plans to go places. Good luck in College and I hope whatever you strive for will be successful.

Always remember the times we shared together and the good times we shared together in English class. I hope to be there with you on June 22 and receive my diploma too. God Bless you Marilyn and thank You for all the help and happiness you have given me. Lots of love, success, and happiness.

As Always and Forever
Katie
